. . . Road to the Isles

A far croonin' is pullin' me away as take I wi' my cromak to the road,
The far Coolins are puttin' love on me, As step I wi' the sunlight for my load.
Sure, by Tummel and Loch Rannoch and Lochaber I will go,
By heather tracks wi' heaven in their wiles;
If it's thinkin' in your inner heart braygart's in my step,
You've never smelt the tangle o' the Isles.
Oh, the far Coolins are puttin' love on me,
As step I wi' my cromak to the Isles.
It's the blue islands are pullin' me away, Their laughter puts the leap upon the lame,
The blue Islands from the Skerries to the Lews, wi' heather honey taste upon each name.
Sure, by Tummel and Loch Rannoch and Lochaber I will go,
By heather tracks wi' heaven in their wiles;
If it's thinkin' in your inner heart braygart's in my step,
You've never smelt the tangle o' the Isles.
Oh, the far Coolins are puttin' love on me,
As step I wi' my cromak to the Isles.

Mr. Skinner served the spaghetti when Mrs. Skinner invited her art students over for a supper of that delicious specialty of hers.

After a brilliant performance of sonatas, Dr. Vardell's own "Cookie Jar" remains the favorite encore piece at his annual recital.

Those who sit at Mrs. McCain's table often linger to enjoy conversation and another cup of coffee.

That breathless anticipation at the arrival of the long-awaited year with its flag duties, breakfast cuts and the sheepskins, soon turned to anxiety as we faced student teaching, professional data sheets, and interviews. Even before the rotunda Christmas party, plans were in progress for commencement speakers, the class gift and senior recitals. Soon Senior Day, the Silver Tea and Senior Devotions became, like spring, only a fading memory.

Dr. Bullock takes a picture of his senior Bible majors, following supper at his house; Mrs. Bullock and little Pat, who kept the guests entertained, got into the shot also.

Gwen Fussell perfectly assumes the role of primary teacher, and here explains the life cycle of a butterfly to her pupils.

It is a common stunt for "dignified" seniors to pile miscellaneous objects in front of a door that has a "Busy Official" on it.

This prim-looking group of Highland Flingers wait in one of the parlors for the bus which will take them to perform at Ft. Bragg.

The Juniors, feeling very proud of being over half-way through, began their year by greeting and making welcome Little Sisters and Brothers. They elected marshals and kept the "tea hole" for the first time. After Christmas the "nimble" Juniors began practice on the Highland Fling and soon were dancing to the tune of the bagpipes. Then in a rush came Going-up Day, exams, and capping — they were almost Seniors!

A group of theory students do some last-minute studying before Dr. Rogers arrives.

Although Catherine Smith came to F.M.C. with previous loyalties, she is proud of her class ring.

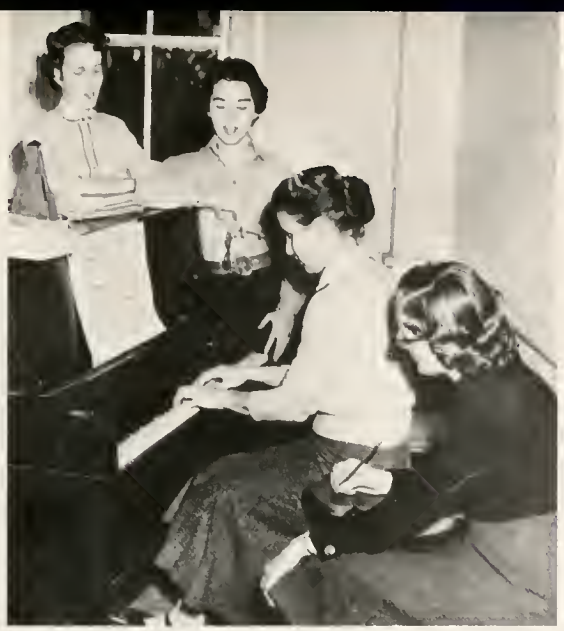
Feeling now like real college students, we delved into the year's round of activities. The tea for our future little sisters, the gay whirl of the freshman-sophomore dance, and the quickly gotten-up parties in the new kitchen helped to make this year an outstanding one in our college memories.



The "conservatory crew" take time out from Bach and Beethoven to enjoy Romberg and Berlin.

After the confusion of registration, the first weeks' homesickness, and harrowing Rat Day, the freshmen settled down "to a long winter's" work—but it wasn't all work. Dances, movies, parties, and week-ends at home helped to give the freshmen that special campus quality.

Odessa and Ethel calmly chat and sweep as sleepy girls stumble towards the dining room for breakfast.

"You Gotta' Sing When the Spirit Says, 'Sing'," one of the favorite spirituals of F.M.C. girls, might well serve as a term to describe the pleasure of Rotunda Sings.

Living at F.M.C.

We felt a distinctive pride when we marched in the Fall Festival parade to the strains of "The Road to the Isles," piped by Vivian Morrison.

Dotti Morris and Frances Morton, coming up the path from the gardens with greenery for Christmas decorations, seemed cold but happy.

A feature of the fall school months which helped to brighten inactive week-ends was the informal dancing in Conservatory Hall.

Student Government

A group with a "thousand and one" plans and only one goal, the Student Council strives to make our student body the best anywhere by working together with students, faculty, and administration. Not only work, but also fellowship make up these plans. Last spring much sweat was shed over revising the handbook and planning Orientation Week. Top projects for this year include membership in the National Student Association, the student store, the council scrapbook, and a much-needed filing cabinet and secretary's notebook. Planning for the House Party and for our first Reading Day were also on the list. Of course, there were daily duties to be done — checking cards and chapel and working in co-operation with the proctors on the halls. Working with other campus organizations and the day students, making plans for special events like Exam Week and the special privileges for May Day, dealing with campus problems, and just coping with the many incidental problems that arise each day are other responsibilities of the Council. Fellowship entered the picture also. The Christmas banquet, Mrs. McCain's party for the Council, and the first formal dance of the year sponsored by the Student Council all gave a lighter side to the picture. The fine Student Body represents the achievement of many of the "thousand and one" plans.

A "hodge-podge" group of students express their loyalty to their alma mater on a Saturday afternoon by helping type bulletins to be sent to alumnae.

An annual feature of the Red Springs Fall Festival Parade is the Student Council float.

The Student Government sponsored the exciting "Collegiate Ball" in October.

The Cabinet

"Will everyone please bring a paint scraper and some rags to the "rec room" and help sand the tables for Watkins?" Redecorating Watkins Hall has been the project most in our minds this year. Since we have the Prayer Chapel, the C.A. has changed Watkins into a reading nook as well as a place for worship and meditation. Vespers, hymn-sings, prayer bands, Santa Claus' workshop, Thanksgiving baskets, special Christmas programs, and Saturday morning dining room devotions are activities sponsored by the Christian Association. Spiritual Enrichment for the year was encouraged by Rev. Fred Stair, who spoke on "Toward Spiritual Stature," and Dr. John S. Brown, who spoke on "We Are Not Our Own."

Christian Association

Prayer Bands

Weekly prayer bands offer students the chance to get together in small, close groups to worship, meditate, and enjoy a quiet fellowship. Prayer band members, working together on projects such as filling Thanksgiving baskets and Christmas stockings, realize the relationship between prayer and action. Prayer band leaders for the year were: Becky Taylor, Carolyn Newcomer, Barbara Cockrell, Alese Harrison, Betty Tolar, Mac Calhoun, June Jarrett, Betsy Fleshman, Barbara Wingate, Macel Cox, Jane Carson, Elise Williams, Helen Maness, Un Hi Choi, Mary Stuckey, Sarah Dawson, Cynthia West, Thelma Bender, Mary Louise Nelson, Emily Williams, Gwen Fussell, and James Walker.

Student Volunteers

The Student Volunteers, whose interest lies in missions, meet each Monday evening. Several students who attended the Christian World Mission in Athens, Ohio, during the Christmas vacation, reported on their trip and led the group in discussion along the line of the conference theme, "Revolution and Reconciliation." Rev. Fred Stair, Spiritual Enrichment Week speaker in the fall, talked to the group one night.

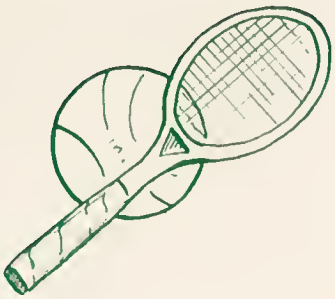
Phyllis Faidley chalks in finishing touches on the scene she has drawn for the C.A. blackboard.

"But Be Ye Doers . . ."

Occasional prayer bands around the rotunda are both impressive and unifying.

Through functions of the C.A., students gain opportunities to speak at chapel, vespers, and on various other occasions.

The C.A. expresses the appreciation of the Student Body to the colored help each year at the Christmas Friendship party. Toys which have resulted from the Toy Workshop, another annual C.A. feature, are distributed by Santa for the helpers' children.



Athletic Association

Sand and shells strewn all over the college were a sure sign that the Athletic Association Board had returned from its Fall Beach Retreat. Square dancing and appearances in the "rec room" of new objects such as duck pins and window curtains were evidences of the fruitfulness of the Retreat. In carrying out its purposes of providing wholesome recreation and fellowship for all, the Association sponsored tournaments in various sports, with the winners receiving their due rewards. The entire student body felt the impact of the Scottie Dogs, who came to live in the dormitories during the fall as the new college mascots.

As the members of the Baton Club merrily twirled their way through tournament half-times, as the members of the Monogram Club proudly displayed their monograms, and as the cheerleaders sing the praises of the college, the Athletic Association could be seen ever going forward.

Sallie Anne Munroe, President of the Athletic Association.

Cheerleaders

Ball games and pep rallies seem to transform these girls into bundles of rhythmic energy. Each class cheerleader organizes and leads the support of the class team. The college cheerleader, Sandra Sweet, leads the "Friendship Song" in the dining hall and adds unifying strength to our college spirit. Left to right, they are: Sandra Sweet, Chief; Fay Buck, senior Cheerleader; Miriam Barrow, Sophomore Cheerleader; Jane Sheets, Junior Cheerleader; and Betty Ann Witherspoon, Freshman Cheerleader.

Volleyball Varsity

Election to the honorary varsity is based both on athletic skill and on scholarship and character. Members of the volleyball varsity who were chosen in the fall are, left to right: Delores Stone, Dee Jordan; Pat Powell, Mac Calhoun; Becky Browning, Emojeane Womeldorf, Sallie Anne Munroe, and Caroline Goodman.

Monogram Club

The Senior Volleyball Team, elated over being tournament winners, share their celebration with their rugged and conquering mascot.

As Mary Ruth Matze spikes a volleyball over to Betty Bridgers, players Irene Baker and Jean Sessoms remain on the alert for quick action.

Baton Club president, Fay Buck, and Phyllis Faidley offer a sample of the Baton Club's twirling and prancing talents as half-time entertainment during a volleyball game.

Songs, cheers, and roasted marshmallows added to the pre-volleyball tournament excitement at a bonfire pep rally sponsored by the A.A.

Members of the Baton Club strike a typical pose in the rotunda. This young club was organized for the purpose of teaching girls to twirl batons.

The labor and concern involved in producing the 1956 WHITE HEATHER fell into the hands of a co-operative and efficient staff. Members of the staff were, top row, left to right: Betsy Fleshman, assistant business manager; Sue Owen, assistant editor; Frances Shaw, Emojeane Womeldorf, literary editors; bottom row, left to right: Carolyn Newcomer, sophomore editor; Julia Gibbs, junior editor; Rosalynde Gibson, freshman editor; Betsy Graham, senior editor; Harriet McAuley, Shirley Kiger, typists; Jean Stuart West, snapshot editor.

"The Road to the Isles" was an inspiration to us as we went about the many tasks involved in compiling the 1956 WHITE HEATHER. Picture-taking, meeting deadlines, endless copy to be typed, weary feet from selling ads, and, more thrilling, pasting pictures in the dummy, "ooh-ing" over the cover design, and anxiously awaiting the finished product—all were parts of our experience with your yearbook. In an attempt to select a cover plaid that would be both unusual and modern, we chose the Black Watch plaid; and because our theme was typically Scottish, we added a sprig of white heather to the cover for your good luck. Working together was an unforgettable experience, and bits of help from others was appreciated. Vivian Morrison, especially, deserves a word of thanks for securing a copy of "The Road to the Isles" for us, and Rosalynde Gibson is to be commended for the drawings. All of our work—and pleasure—will have been worth-while if herein you have captured the vision of our ROAD TO THE ISLES.

The Scribblers

Six seniors there were who pondered over the sins and idiosyncrasies of their fellow classmates. They wielded dictionaries, books of synonyms and the like, and met until the wee hours, often chewing pencil ends and dozing. Such stimulants as Cokes and coffee helped to re-vitalize their weary brain cells at times, and sidetracks of conversation were inevitable. But one night, shortly before Copy Deadline Day, they emerged from their last descriptive huddle with a sheaf of terms to picture the 1956 seniors. These Scribblers hope that they in some way have achieved their purpose of describing their classmates, and that how "we used to be" will thus be a permanent memory.

Carolyn Robinson, Editor of the Pine and Thistle and Ruth Evelyn Topping, Editor of The Skirl.

The "Pine and Thistle" Staff

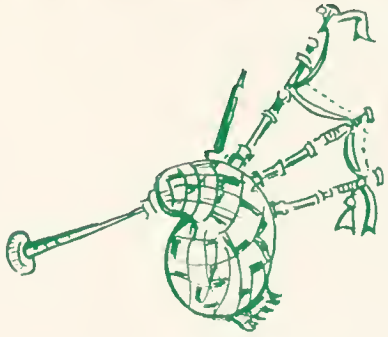
The Pine and Thistle

The Pine and Thistle, nicknamed the "P. and T." and published four times a year, is the literary magazine of Flora Macdonald students and faculty. As a college magazine should, ours has as its primary aim the achievement of literary expression on the campus. Another "P. and T." purpose is to keep originality alive by accepting original contributions such as plays, poems, novels, essays, and short stories from the student body. Word magic, inspiring thought, and eye pleasantry go together to make the contents of a well-planned and an enjoyable publication called the Pine and Thistle. Dr. Eleanor B. Scott is the interested and encouraging advisor for our magazine, and members of the staff are Julia Lee Ribet, Shirley Evans, Rosalynde Gibson, Patterson Yeargin, Katherine Ray, Myra Springs, Joyce Owens, and Ann Marks.

The Skirl Staff

Evelyn Taylor, Circulation Manager, and Elise Williams, Business Manager, of The Pine and Thistle and The Skirl.

The Skirl



In keeping with the Scottish tradition of Flora Macdonald College, our newspaper is named The Skirl. Its name, the sound of the bagpipe, describes its function as the official voice of the students. News articles of interest to all concern events of both the students and faculty. Well-written and varied features constitute a large, vital, and interesting part the newspaper. Issues are published twelve times yearly and each is eagerly awaited by the students. In its fourth year, The Skirl is the product of the "blood, sweat, and tears" of many members of the student body. These staff members, including news reporters and feature writers, are to be commended for their contribution to the life of the college. The Skirl staff includes Ruth Evelyn Topping, editor-in chief; Elise Williams, business manager; Dotti Morris, associate editor; Shirley Evans, associate business manager; Evelyn Taylor, circulation manager; Mary Ruth Matze, art editor.

The Choral Club proudly wears its new robes which are a welcome sight on campus this year and represent several years of work and planning.

Three times a week, girls clad in various outfits (especially gym suits) gather onstage in the auditorium for an hour's rehearsal.

The Choral Club

The 1955-56 officers of the Choral Club are: Sallie Anne Munroe, president; Judy Brown, vice-president in charge of music; Joyce Thigpen, vice-president in charge of robes; Emojeane Womeldorf, vice-president in charge of tours; Sandra Sweet, secretary; Peggy Graham, treasurer; Hazel McLean, chaplain; Julia Lee Ribet, historian; Martha Steppe, accompanist; and Julia Naugle, student conductor.

The Ensemble, organized last year, has been very active in making shorter and more numerous trips, which would have been difficult for the entire Choral Club to make.

Named in honor of the patron saint of music, this club's interes s are not limited to music but touch the whole realm of the arts.

St. Cecelia Music Club

Leading St. Cecelia as it became affiliated with the North Carolina and National Federation of Music Clubs were: Julia Naugle, president; Ann Stafford, vice-president: Judy Brown, secretary-treasurer: and Miss Joyce Bryant, sponsor.

Ann Stafford and Julia Naugle entertained their little piano students at a Christmas party in one of the parlors. Both Ann and Julia gave piano recitals in the spring.

Mary Archie Brown, who gave her senior voice recital in the spring, practices with her accompanist, Martha Steppe.

Janie Bryant and Faye Graham, the only second year business student of the year, help each other in operating one of the mimeograph machines in the business department.

Dotti Morris smugly adds funds to the treasury of the Business Club, as their coffee-selling project attracts many after-chapel customers.

Future Business Leaders of America

"For fun and fellowship, work and play,
Answer our call; join F.B.L.A.!"

"Attention all halls! There'll be a meeting of the F.B.L.A. in the 'Busy' Department Wednesday afternoon at 3:45." The F.B.L.A. is the national organization for business students; the Flora Macdonald Chapter is a charter member. While typewriters are "cooling", we find ourselves engaged in many F.B.L.A. activities. Among these was a trip to Winthrop College where an authority on shorthand spoke, the annual Christmas party, afternoon tea, and the spring picnic in Clio, South Carolina. An exciting week-end in April was spent at the annual F.B.L.A. Convention at the Robert E. Lee Hotel in Winston-Salem.

The Business Club, composed mainly of one-year commercial students, pose in one of the business classrooms. The sign "Future Business Leaders of America" on the wall is a reminder to them of what they hope to become.

Epsilon Chi Society

Epsilon Chi's theme for the year has been "Fun, Fellowship, and Furnishings." Our fun began when Epsilon Chi entertained all Freshmen and Transfer students at the "Gypsy Ball" during Orientation week. Jointly with Zetesian Society, Epsilon Chi entertained the new students with a minstrel as another phase of Orientation. Fellowship was enjoyed by Epsilon Chi's working jointly with Zetesian again in sponsoring entertainment for the guests of Open House Weekends. The talent show, "Admission to the Pearly Gates," proved quite humorous and entertaining. One highlight of the year was the Christmas dance, "Winter Wonderland," sponsored by the societies; a Christmas party was also enjoyed. The regular Epsilon Chi meetings, which consist of various types of entertainment held in the Society Hall every third Friday night, proved rich in fun and fellowship but not in furnishings! Thus, the idea of refurnishing the hall soon was made into a project—redecoration of the hall. This project was the highlight of the year. Other functions of Epsilon Chi included annual spring picnic and acting as hostess to the Spring Debaters.

Barbara Arrington
President

The officers who set the pace are (left to right): June Jarrett secretary; Sarah Goodman (standing), pianist; Lucy Richardson, treasurer; Catherine Smith, censor; Mac Calhoun, vice-president; Gwen Fussell, chaplain.

Zeta Theta Psi Society

Jane Wool
President

For many days in the room of each new student little favors appeared—"Go right, go Zetesian." Then came the night of the big decision: all who went right—to the green hall—were fully rewarded. We haven't forgotten the wiener roast at Waldo's Beach . . . swimming, dancing, games . . . singing . . . new friendships made . . . old ones renewed. It seemed we never stopped! "The Country Revival on Saturday Night" party with Epsilon Chi was a rollicking success. For ridiculous fun we plan Senior Takeoffs each spring; together the societies portray the interesting characteristics of each senior in skits. We proved our motto by giving a big pajama party in the conservatory for all the visitors to the House Party. By memories of beautiful gowns, corsages, the music of Jimmy Morgan, and a blue dance room, we re-live our "Winter Wonderland" Christmas dance. These are only a few of our many enjoyable times. Wherever help is needed or something is being done—cleaning, building, planning— Zetesians may be found living up to their song "Friendship our motto and knowledge our quest."

Classical Club

The Classical Club is composed of students, interested in the life and culture of the ancient Greeks and Romans and in their contributions to modern civilization. A highlight of the year for the Classical Club is the annual party given by the sponsor, Miss Harriet Morrison. Each month an informative program is presented by one of the student members. Officers: Joy Stalvey, president; Marie Potter, vice-president; Ann Rogers, secretary-treasurer.

The French Club

Le Circle Française — the French Club — of Flora Macdonald College planned its programs for the year around the theme "France Today." Several interesting programs carrying out this theme were: "French Popular Music," "French Foods," and "The Latest in French Fashions." A banquet at the final meeting of the year served as a climax to this series of programs. Officers: Marlene Johnson, president; Sarah Goodman, vice-president; Anne Turner, secretary-treasurer; Mr. William Reagan, advisor.

The Spanish Club

"¿Hable usted el español?" Then the Spanish Club welcomes you to its circle! Every month the Spanish Club meets for programs, games, and refreshments. To further interest in Spanish and Latin American peoples, lands, and customs, the Spanish Club was formed. The club members celebrate Christmas in a Mexican tradition, with gifts being brought to a fiesta and placed in the piñata. When the piñata is broken, guests capture the scattered gifts. Officers are: Ruth Evelyn Topping, president; Becky Taylor, vice-president; Jane Carson, secretary; Barbara Arrington, treasurer; Mr. Thomas E. Wright, advisor.

Writers Club

"God wove a web of loveliness
Of clouds and stars and birds,
But made not anything at all
So beautiful as words."

With this inspiring theme, the Writers' Club offers stimulation and encouragement to promising young writers, and has, as an added incentive to write, the possibility of publication in the Pine and Thistle. The officers are: Carolyn Robinson, president; Hazel McLean, vice-president; Becky Taylor, treasurer; and Dr. Eleanor B. Scott, advisor.

William Bartram Science Club

Decorating the Christmas tree on the front porch is one of the major activities of the Science Club, which is open to science students with a grade average of B. Movies, reports, and speeches keep this club in contact with the world of science and nature. The very capable advisors, Dr. Ethel B. Hansen, Miss Doris Hawse, and Dr. Amy LeVesconte, lend interest and support through their varied knowledge of scientific subjects. Officers: Frances Shaw, president; Jean Stuart West, vice-president; Miriam Barrow, secretary; Mary Stuckey, treasurer; Jane McLeod, finance chairman.

Highland Players

The purpose of the Highland Players is to develop dramatic talent and the art of acting, to cultivate a taste for the best in drama, and to foster the cultural values which we believe dramatics develop. A program of oratorical interpretations was presented during Hospitality Weekend and The Mad-woman of Chaillot by Jean Giraudoux was given in the spring. Officers are: Shirley Bullard, president; Norma Pittard, secretary-treasurer; Miss Sarah Margaret Gabriel, advisor.

The Home Economics Club

Among some of the club's interesting events of the year was the presentation of kitchen equipment to the student body. Another was the entertainment of the foreign students at which time each prepared a dish from her country. The club is very proud that one of its members, Jean Stuart West, is North Carolina State Reporter of the College Clubs. Officers are: Delores Stone, president; Miriam Barrow, vice-president; Mary Stuckey, secretary; Jane McLeod, treasurer; and Jane McDonald, reporter.

South Carolina Club

The South Carolina Club, organized just last year, has taken great strides in its membership. This year thirty-five Palmetto girls represent their state with pride on the campus of F.M.C.

"We are the kids from South Carolina,
Don't you recognize our Southern drawl?
You know we hail from South Carolina,
When you hear us holler 'Hi! You all!'
From the hills of the rolling Piedmont,
To the sandland and the coastland, too,
We gather 'neath the green Palmetto tree;
To our state we will always be true!"

Sandra Sweet is president of the club, and Edith Ann Byrd is vice-president.

Virginia Club

"Sound off—Virginia! V-I-R-G-I-N-I-A!" can be heard as the F.M.C. bus comes rolling in, with twenty-six Virginians coming back from a picnic at Buie's Lake. No matter where you go in the building, you see some evidence of Virginia: a Virginia Club pennant, a "Keep Virginia Green" sign, or better yet—a faithful Virginian! These Old Dominion girls have claimed the F.M.C. foreign students as adopted sisters. Officers are: Alese Harrison, president; Sue Owen, vice-president; Joanne Ross, secretary; Ethel Wood, treasurer; and Mrs. Elbert McPhaul, Mrs. Walter Bullock, and Miss Doris Hawse, co-sponsors.

Mathematical Honor Society

Parties, picnics, bulletin boards, and library displays, are some activities which bind the members of the Math Club into a close-knit group. Varied programs show mathematics in relation to other professions and occupations. Two aims of the society are to stimulate interest in and to encourage high scholastic work in mathematics. Officers are: Pat Farmer, president; Carolyn Johnson, vice-president; Thelma Bender, corresponding secretary; Sarah Goodman, recording secretary; Elise Williams, treasurer; Betsy Brewer, finance chairman; Miss Ellie Mae Sowder, advisor.

International Relations Club

Studying and discussing affairs of national and international interest is the purpose of the I.R.C. It also tries to inform other students of these affairs in its annual chapel program, when some current international topic is discussed by a panel of club members. Officers are: Harriet McAuley, president; Frances Shaw, vice-president; Judy Rogan, secretary; Norma Pittard, treasurer; Becky Williams, reporter and scrapbook custodian; Miss Carol Robertson, advisor.

Day Students Club

"I've got to go home and cook supper," or "I'll see you tomorrow" are the good-bye's we get from the day students as they leave the Tea Hole in the afternoon to go home. This year's organization is the largest the college has boasted, and it has a dozen of those rare creatures—co-eds. Every Wednesday the club meets in Epsilon Chi Hall during Student Body meeting to discuss ways in which it can uphold that "F.M.C. Spirit." Shirley Chadwick of Fayetteville is president, and Helma Jean Thomas of Lumberton is secretary.

The Honor Society

This society, organized in the spring of 1955, recognizes outstanding scholarship among the members of the junior and senior classes. Students having completed five semesters at Flora Macdonald and having an average of 93.5 per cent and students having completed six, seven, or eight semesters and having an average of 92.5 per cent are eligible for membership. Student members are encouraged to consider graduate study; a public meeting in the form of a lecture pertaining to scholarship is held each year. Officers are Emojeane Womeldorf, president; Gladys McCain, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Price H Gwynn, Jr., advisor.

The Organ Guild

The Flora Macdonald Guild Student Group of the American Guild of Organists is one of the newest clubs at the college, having been organized just this year. The Guild seeks to advance the cause and status of worthy religious music and to raise the efficiency of organists and choirmasters by examinations to evaluate the training and attainments of the candidates in various phases of music. Officers are: Martha Steppe, dean; Mary Frances Ross, subdean; Ann Eller, secretary-treasurer; Mr. John E. Williams, supervisor.

Granddaughters Club

The Granddaughters of the college have functioned as a group at Dr. Vardell's birthday reception and other such occasions for a number of years, but they were organized into a club only last spring. Nineteen girls whose mothers or grandmothers attended Flora Macdonald compose the club. Officers: Pat Ritter, president; Joyce Thigpen, vice-president; Miss Mary Conoly, advisor.

Marshals

Visitors and students are made to feel welcome on concert and lecture evenings by nine girls dressed in billowing white. This year long white gloves added an elegant touch to the marshals' dress as they moved about acting as hostesses, finding seats, and distributing programs. The marshals are elected from the Junior Class by Epsilon Chi and Zeta Theta Psi Societies.

FLORA MACDONALD COLLEGE

RED SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA

60th Year

ACCREDITED SENIOR COLLEGE AND CONSERVATORY

B.A., B.S., and B.M. DEGREES

Flora Macdonald College has "that something." You can't quite describe it. You feel it — just as soon as you step on the campus. It's "something" intangible but real. Ask any student who has lived in the elevating and energizing atmosphere of the college. You will be told it's "something" that gets into one's heart, mind, and soul — "something" that awakens the best — "something" that lays hold of the best — "something" that brings out the best. It's "something" a student feels when studying in the library or listening to a lecture in the classroom or playing basketball in the gym or walking through the college gardens. It's "something" that makes a student want to work and play and live with zest and joy and abandonment. It's "something" a student finds at Flora Macdonald — "something" that lives in her and with her during her college years — "something" which goes with her out into life and makes her a unique person, radiant in personality, unselfish in spirit, and successful in her career as a teacher or nurse or pastor's assistant or technician or secretary or wife and mother or leader in her church and community. "That something" is the plus in education which Flora Macdonald offers you. It's "that something" which money cannot buy but which no girl who has found it would exchange for all the wealth of India.
